Research and Development internship (6 weeks, m/f)

Context

In the context of the EU-funded ATENA¹ project, itrust consulting is seeking an intern with an interest in research to work on project dissemination tasks. The project aims to provide tools to defend critical infrastructures from cyberattacks in an age where information technology – in particular the advent of the Internet of Things – is more and more integrated to operational technology.

Requirements

- Immediate availability is a must;
- Good level of English;
- Good communication skills;
- Knowledge of WordPress would be considered an advantage;
- Some knowledge of the information security market would be a plus.

Job

- Website maintenance;
- Summarizing and posting news items;
- Collecting dissemination information from project partners;
- Designing exploitation and marketing strategies for itrust consulting-developed tools in the context of the project.

Profile of the candidate

- High-school student or slightly above;
- Likes working with others;
- An interest in information security and/or marketing.

Thank you for sending your most recently obtained diploma and latest ratings available, your updated CV, and a letter of motivation to Ms. Marieta Dimitrova.
